VOL. II. RALEIGH, N. C., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1867. NO. 238.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

GENERAL SICKLES' ORDER FOR REGISTRATION.

HEADQUARTERS 2D MILITARY DISTRICT, CHARLESTON, S. C., May 8.

General Orders, No. 18.

1. On the 3d Monday of July next, in obedience to the requirements of the act of Congress, passed March 23, 1867, the Commanding General will proceed and cause to be made a registration of the male citizens of the United States, 21 years of age and upwards, residents of North and South Carolina, not distranchised for participation in the rebellion.

2. One or more Boards of Registration consisting of three discreet and qualified persons, to be appointed by the Commanding General, will be organized in each county or city to make and complete the registration, superintend the election to be held thereafter for delegates to a convention to frame a constitution, and make returns to him of the votes, list of voters, and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at such election.

3. The counties in North Carolina and the geographical districts in South Carolina will, for the purpose of registration, be divided into convenient registration precincts, and in each precinct a Board of Registers will, if practicable, be organized. Several places will be designated in each registration precinct where the Board will meet, and citizens, eligible to registration, may go and be registered. The Board of Registers will remain in session two days from sunrise to sunset at each place of meeting.—On the adjournment of the Boards a copy of the list of persons registered will be deposited in a suitable place within the precinct, seven days for the public information, and thereafter the Board will again visit every presinct and revise the list of voters, hear objections from citizens as to any adjudication made, and register any person who may have been unable, by reason of illness or other good and sufficient cause, to attend the first session of the Board.

4. All persons appointed to make the said registration of voters, and to conduct said election, will be required, before entering on their duties, to take and subscribe to the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2d, 1862, entitled, "An act to prescribe the oath of office," and if any person shall falsely take such oath, he, if convicted, shall be subject to the penalties prescribed by law for wilful perjury. The form of the oath is hereinafter prescribed, as follows:

I, A. B., do solemnly swear or affirm that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; I have neither sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise, the functions of any office whatever under any authority or pretended authority in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, authority, power or constitution within the United States hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear that to the best of my knowledge and ability I will support, aid and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully perform the duties of the office upon which I am about to enter. So help me God.

5. Members of the Boards of Registration will be allowed as compensation $4 per day for each day actually and necessarily employed in the performance of their duties, and ten cents a mile for each mile traveled on duty, and officers of the army detailed for such duty will be paid the per diem and mileage allowed for attendance on Courts martial.

6. Any citizen desiring to serve as a member of the Board may forward his application to these headquarters. No application will be considered unless accompanied by a written recommendation, signed by either the Provisional Governor of the State, a District or Circuit Judge of the United States Court, a Collector or other principal officer of Customs or of Internal Revenue, the Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, or the commanding officer of a military post within which the applicant resides, certifying the applicant to be a fit person to receive the appointment.

7. It is essential that every Board should be composed of persons of recognized consideration and worth, fairly representing the population, and in whose impartiality and capacity the body of voters in the vicinage may have just reliance.

8. The boundaries of the precincts for registration, in the several places within each precinct where the Board will meet, the day or days on which the Board will meet in each precinct, and also such regulations as may be necessary for the government of registers and inspectors of elections in the discharge of their duties and to insure the accuracy and completeness of the registration, will be duly published for general information.

9. Post Commanders will report without delay upon the most expedient division of the territory within their commands into registration precincts, having reference, when practicable, to existing laws and customs establishing the usual voting places, and keeping in view the importance of affording ample facilities for registration with the least interruption of the ordinary avocations of the people.

By command of Major-General
D. E. SICKLES.

NOT A BIT PROUD.—A day or two since a gentleman of our acquaintance was enjoying a solitary ride in one of the street cars, when the vehicle was stopped at the beck of an urchin of color, who leisurely sauntering into the car, exclaimed, as he observed the occupant: "Umph, one white man in here, hey. Well, it don't matter, I ain't proud a bit, and I'd jess as lief ride with a white man as not."

We are sorry to say that our friend did not appreciate the condescension, and with an accent of disgust exclaimed, "Stop, driver, and let me get out; I believe I'd rather walk."

A man in Maine was recently asked to subscribe for a chandelier for the church.—"Now," said he, "what's the use of a chandelier? After you get it, you can't get any one to play on it."

FAYETTEVILLE STREET,

RALEIGH, N. C.

Grateful for the flattering patronage with which we have heretofore been so kindly favored, we respectfully solicit an increased share of the patronage of the citizens of Raleigh and the surrounding country. Without specially gassing, we deem it sufficient to say, that our stock mostly embraces such articles as are usually found in Family Groceries. Most of our goods have been recently bought in New York and Baltimore, for cash, and we hope to be able to sell them on satisfactory terms. In addition to our stock of Groceries, &c., we have a fine lot of

HATS AND READY MADE CLOTHING

and a splendid lot of Confectioneries, consisting of all of which will be sold on reasonable terms.

We have also a fine lot of genuine Durham Smoking Tobacco, which we can implicitly recommend to "those who smoke." Please call and see us.

We will pay particular attention to all consignments of Produce and Merchandise entrusted to our care and will endeavor to sell at the best market prices. Consignments are respectfully solicited. By a prompt and close attention to business and fair dealing with all, we hope to merit and receive a share of public patronage.

ASTROLOGY.

THE WORLD ASTONISHED

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the malefic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. A full and explicit chart, written out, with all inquiries answered and likeness enclosed, sent by mail on receipt of price above mentioned. The strictest secrecy will be maintained, and all correspondence returned or destroyed. References of the highest order furnished those desiring them. Write plainly the day of the month and year in which you were born, enclosing a small lock of hair.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1867.

EMIGRATION TO THE SOUTH—A LETTER FROM MASSACHUSETTS.

A recent article in this paper on the resources of North Carolina, having attracted the attention of a gentleman of capital, who is engaged in carrying on an extensive business in Springfield, Massachusetts, he has written us a letter, which we publish elsewhere, this morning. In a private note, he declares his honest purpose to be to elicit information, and avows his utter exemption from any feeling of unkindness towards the South or its people. Maugre a few casual expressions, the tone of the letter which we publish indicates the sincerity of this assurance, and for that reason we give it place.

We remark here, what we have so often said already, that, in the present depressed and impoverished condition of the South, capital is essential to our recuperation. We have the labor, the industry, the genial climate and the generous soil, the determination and the desire to work, but the capital, which is indispensable, must come from abroad. If that capital, when brought to our midst, shall be accompanied by friendly inclinations, liberal views, and a disposition to ignore the bitterness of the past, it will be trebly welcome.

Our readers will probably be amused at the apprehension which pervades the letter in question, that the property and persons of Northern men are not safe in the South. If such were the case, as matters now stand, it could only be through the fault of the military authorities, whose power is absolute and surveillance supreme throughout the South. But what the writer means, perhaps, is that heretofore they have not been safe, and may not be, hereafter, when the military regime shall have been numbered with the things that were. As to the past, since the close of the war, to use a homely adage, the "proof of the pudding is in the eating." We defy any one to point out a single well authenticated instance in which Northern men, so far as North Carolina is concerned, have been injured in person or molested in property. There have been cases, of course, in which such men have failed to command the confidence or to win the respect of the communities or neighborhoods in which they have been located, and the people may not have been backward in showing it, but, as an almost invariable rule, it will be found that the fault was in the new-comers themselves,—that they had proven themselves incapable of rising above narrow prejudices and passion, were illiberal in their views, or, what is most likely, were mere temporary squatters, for the evident purpose of fleecing our people out of what little they had left. Such men are flouted, they always will be, and they deserve to be.

We confess that while we can but laugh at the writer's hallucination as to the state of things "down South," we are not at all surprised at it. It is the most natural thing in the world, for the reason that the press of the North, and especially of his own State, has abounded with the most outrageous slanders upon our people, and the most extravagant misrepresentations of our social habitudes. We cannot blame such men as Mr. Crosby, though we may be amazed at their credulity, for the bad opinion they entertain respecting us. The responsibility rests on the shoulders of hired itinerant scribblers, and upon "ill-birds" at home who, for the most shameful and sinister ends, have sought to depreciate, prejudice and even ruin their own native land, their neighbors and friends, by representing them as "disloyal," "rebellious" and full of hate for the "Yankees."

In the year 1865, Messrs. Battle, Heck & Co. instituted an Immigration Agency in this City. It became necessary for them to seek to counteract just such unfounded and ridiculous (we do not use the word offensively) notions as that which has taken possession of Mr. Crosby. They accordingly wrote a letter to a Northern firm, in which they affirmed that no settler in our midst would be molested in the enjoyment of property, or in the transaction of any kind of legitimate business; and the Provisional Governor of the State, under date of Sept. 7, 1865, endorsed the statement in these emphatic words:

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, Raleigh, N. C., September 7, 1865.

I have no hesitation in endorsing the foregoing as strictly true. Our people would be glad to see their Northern fellow-citizens settling among them. There is no ground for apprehending that persons and property will not be safe.

W. W. HOLDEN, Provisional Governor.

What was true then, when the passions engendered by the war were fresh,—when the ground-swell following the furious lashing of the storm had not subsided,—is certainly still more true now.

There are several points in Mr. Crosby's letter which we might handle with some pungency, but we have really no disposition to do so. Until he can make up his mind that our Courts are sufficiently enlightened and impartial, and our Judges sufficiently pure and upright, to administer equal justice between all men, and until he can throughly persuade himself that our men are not cut-throats and do not wear stilettos and "stab in the dark," it will, perhaps, be well enough for him not to come South.—But when he shall be altogether disabused of such fancies, if he will come among us, in the spirit of his professions, we will give him a cordial welcome, and assure him of the full appreciation to which his merits and demeanor, after he comes, may entitle him. We cannot refrain from remarking, however, that while we have no doubt Mr. Crosby is an exception to the general class, we had almost rather not have too large an exode from some parts of New England, if we may be allowed a choice. Somehow, our people think that that little corner of the country is more responsible for our late troubles than any other, and are somewhat afraid of being affected with some of the isms that have existence there. They admire its wonderful energy and its diffusive education, but they rather have an idea that its advance in morals and true philanthropy has not been commensurate with its material strides.

But, in serious earnest, we of the South must invite as well as organize associations of capital and enterprize. We must extend the right hand of invitation and welcome to men of capital and of labor,—willing to invest that capital and employ that labor, not only for themselves, but with others and for all, in the work of developing our capabilities, contributing to the general welfare, and augmenting the greatness and glory of the common country.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The release of Mr. Davis, on bail, seems to be heartily approved in the main by the press of the country, North and South, and it is generally regarded by all parties as virtually the end of the prosecution. The case will be called in November, but a nolle prosequi, after perhaps a continuance or two, will dispose of it without a trial.

So far as our observation has thus far extended, the following are the only raven notes of discord heard in the general voice of pesce and congratulation:

From the Washington Chronicle.

"The country was startled yesterday by the unexpected announcement that this arch-traitor has been admitted to bail in Richmond by Judge Underwood, of the United States Court. It appears that the sovereign people of a Republic may be trifled with by those who assume to be their rulers instead of their servants, as well as those of a monarchy. We cannot properly characterize this high-handed outrage, and we can only say that, regarding it as preliminary to the final discharge or pardon of Davis, we should prefer to see the farce ended at once. No one now is foolish enough to believe that Davis will ever meet his just deserts and suffer the penalties of treason, and the loyal public sentiment of the country can receive no further shock through any act connected with him. We can only regret now that this mockery of a legal proceeding against him should have been commenced at all. Far better that he should have been unconditionally released, than, by the pretence of bringing him before a judicial tribunal to answer for his crimes, to bring the law into contempt, and make the Government itself appear ridiculous in the eyes of the world."

From the Raleigh Standard.

"Thus far the whole affair of the capture, detention and bailing of Mr. Davis appears to be only a gigantic farce. He should have been tried or released long ago; and really, after two years delay, for the counsel on the part of the government to say they were not ready to proceed with the trial at once, it seems to us, is all stuff and the veriest humbug. The admission of Mr. D. to bail for high treason, in the sum of $100,000, is about equal to 50 cents bail in an ordinary murder case. The loyal people of the United States look upon the whole matter with amazement."

HON. WM. A. GRAHAM.

We are greatly gratified to be able to state, that the Hon. Wm. A. Graham has received his pardon, which was forwarded to him by the President direct. If there be any one citizen of North Carolina, in whom our people feel a just pride, and in whose sagacity and integrity they have implicit confidence, that man is William A. Graham.—The removal of the technical imputation upon his loyalty, involved in so long withholding his pardon, though an unaccountably delayed act of justice, will be hailed generally with the same great gratification with which we announce it.

HYPOCRISY.

We notice that the following resolution, among others, was adopted at a recent Radical meeting in the county of Moore:

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Union men of this County are due and hereby tendered to Col. W. B. Richardson and Capt. Wm. M. Black, for their unflinching fidelity to the Union cause in the Legislature of North Carolina at its last session, and especially to Col. Richardson, who had the Spartan courage to offer a resolution in the Senate to accept in good faith the Sherman bill, and to carry out the same upon a true and loyal basis, when only seven men in that venerable body had courage enough to stand up with him against the overwhelming opposition to said act of Congress."

Now will it be believed that this same "Capt. Black" voted, in the House of Commons, against the ratification of the Howard Amendment, and that this identical "Col. Richardson," though he voted against the adoption of the report of the Committee, nevertheless voted against a motion made by Mr. C. L. Harris to strike out the word "not" before the word "ratify" in the Resolution non-ratifying the Amendment? Yet such is the fact.

The would be leaders in the work of reconstruction in this State affect to regard the rejection of the Howard Amendment by the people and legislatures of the South as conclusive evidence of disloyalty, and as warranting and justifying the late action of Congress. Could a stronger instance of their hypocrisy be afforded than this Moore county resolution?

THE LYNCHBURG Virginian says of the release of Mr. Davis: An obstacle in the way of reconstruction has been broken down; and the Federal Court at Richmond did more yesterday towards healing the wounds of the nation and restoring good will and harmony than has ever been done before. We hail the event as an auspicious one, traught with good; and recognize the present as a fortunate time for both sections of the Union to set out with a new purpose to bury their animosities and meet together on a common ground of justice, peace and fraternity. No one, we are sure, would do more to bring about such a result, or more rejoice at it, than he who was yesterday restored to the free air of Heaven from the confines of his long incarceration.

STATE NEWS.

—— THOMASVILLE FEMALE COLLEGE.—The commencement exercises at this institution will take place the 5th and 6th of June. Rev. W. H. Wheeler will deliver the sermon, and W. M. Robins, Esq., both of Salisbury, will deliver the address.

—— BISHOP PIERCE.—This distinguished Divine of the M. E. Church, South, will preach at the following points in this State, during the month of June: Salisbury, June 6th.; Thomasville, the 10th., at night; Trinity College, the 12th.; Olive Branch, Davie County, 15th. and 16th.; Winston 17th.; Germanton 18th.; Madison 19th.; Leaksville 20th.

—— A correspondent of the Norfolk Journal, writing from Tarboro, under date of the 9th. inst., says that "General Avery visited this town on yesterday, for the purpose of appointing registrars of election, under the late order of Gen. Sickles. His selection of men here was as good as could be expected, from the very circumscribed number of those who could digest the "iron-clad." The General passed down the river to-day, to visit the lower counties on a similar errand."

—— The Warrenton Indicator says that Dr. Matt. Williams, —— Harrison, (formerly a Federal soldier) and John Hyman, (colored,) have been appointed Registrars for Warrenton District.

—— Gen. Theo. H. Holmes, late of the C. S. A., is at present in Wilmington. He is in attendance upon the Episcopal Diocesan Convention.

—— The Weldon States says that that section was visited on Monday evening last with a hail-storm, and it learns, from friends in the country, that it destroyed all the cotton which was up. We presume that the storm extended over a limited belt of country.

—— The Annual Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina met in St. James' Church, Wilmington, on yesterday. Quite a large number of Delegates, clerical and lay, are in attendance. The Convention sermon was preached by the Rev. Geo. Patterson. Important questions will be advanced for the consideration of the Convention, and there is a probability that an election for an assistant Bishop will be had.

—— Gen. Sickles' Common Council of Newbern are making some radical changes in, upon and around that ancient and venerable North Carolina City of ours. They have even changed its name. So we go.—The following resolution was adopted at a late meeting of the Board:

"Resolved, That the seal which the Mayor was authorized to purchase for the city by the last Board be and the same is hereby adopted as the seal of this city, the device of which is as follows, to wit: "City of New Bern, North Carolina," in circle, (spelt with two syllables. 'Bern' being spelt without a final "e") the arms being a commercial scene representing a schooner and small boats, in full rig near a wharf, on which are seen Cotton Bags and Turpentine Barrels."

—— The Warrenton Indicator, alluding to the recent change of schedule on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, pays the following handsome and merited compliment to the officers and employees on that Road:

"We are much interested in the success of this admirably managed Road, and are glad that the change announced elsewhere has been made. The traveling public will now be transported in excellent time, and over a Road that has had fewer accidents than any other we are acquainted with. The President, Dr. Hawkins, we believe to be the best Railroad officer we ever saw. The Superintendent, our old friend and school-mate, Gen. Lewis, is energetic, accommodating and capable. The conductors, too, on this Road are more uniformly courteous and obliging than any we know."

AN ILLUSTRATION IN POINT.—The New Orleans Crescent, in the course of an article full of practical and sagacious counsel to the colored people of the South, employs the following apposite illustration:

"Most persons living in a large city, or accustomed to visit one, have had something to do with a "cheap John" establishment. It has, no doubt, been the lot of many of our colored people to be seized, out of pure love, by the hospitable proprietor of one of these institutions, and, amid a shower of wheedling protestations, almost dragged in by main force that they might not "miss the chance of a great bargain." And they have doubtless a lively and wholesome remembrance of the kind of trumpery which they usually received in return for all their cash on such occasions. It would be wise for our colored people to remember that there is a set of sharpers having to politics about the same relation as the "cheap John" shopkeepers aforesaid have to commerce; who lie in wait, sharpening their wits and their audacity for the work of snapping up colored voters, out of pure love, of course, and not letting them go until they shall have delivered up their votes, all the political cash they possess, for a particular ticket."

THE National Intelligencer, commenting on the recent disturbances in Richmond, says:

"It is more easy to imagine than to describe the depressed feeling of the whites at Richmond. Much the same feeling, of course, permeates the South. It is seriously destructive to the morale of the people, and of course to the working of that mental and physical force which is indispensable to material prosperity. This is the entertainment to which all the people of the country are invited by Radical usurpers and revolutionists."

BUTLER AND BOOTH'S DIARY.—Conger testified that he took the diary from Booth, and it is in the same condition now that it was when he first handled it. All the witnesses who have had possession of it have testified that the diary is now in the exact condition it was when taken from Booth, and therefore the inference is conclusive that the assassin himself removed the first eighteen pages referred to by Gen. Butler.

Robert J. Walker has said that during Polk's administration Russian America was offered to this country for nothing, and refused. The Russian Consul at New York says the territory is now an incumbrance to Russia.

Mr. O'Conor left the city on yesterday evening, to return to New York by way of Norfolk and the Eastern Airline Railway. He expressed himself in parting very happy at leaving our citizens in smiles.

Mr. Reed and Mr. Schell leave this morning by the Fredericksburg Road.—Richmond Whig, 15th.

[Correspondence of the Sentinel.]

SPRINGFIELD, MASS., May 10, 1867.

Editors of the Sentinel, Raleigh, N. C.:

I notice a piece in this morning's Springfield Republican, copying some remarks from your paper, and deem them worthy a notice from one who would gladly exchange the business considerations of this State for those of a State which could offer more inducements to the merchant or the Capitalist, than the now much-over crowded States of New England can offer.

The business, especially commercial, is very much over done, and manufacturing is monopolized by large stock companies.—Now there are thousands of people living in New England, and the Northern States, who possess capital, to a more or less extent,—hard working, shrewd calculators, and men who will make a living here or anywhere, yet who would gladly emigrate to some of the Southern States, could they feel satisfied that their lives and capital would be secure from lawless men, and men who have engendered a feeling of dislike for all "Yankees." These men, we believe, (it may be unjustly) are ready to persecute and drive from the South all Northern men who do not sacrifice their convictions to the will and mind of this class of men.—We do not look upon the masses of the Southern people as possessing so spiteful a dislike towards us as to not allow Northern men to settle among them. But, nevertheless, the majority of a people do not always have the power to do justice in such cases—and many Northern people feel, for this reason, that their lives would not be safe for one moment among a class where some are so spiteful as to stab you in the dark.—(These ideas may all be erroneous, and I hope they are; and for this reason, I wish to bring the subject plainly before the people of the South, that we may hear their answers and receive their views, and thus judge for ourselves whether we have had wrong ideas forced upon us or not.)

The people of the South may differ very materially with us in politics, and we may differ from them. These differences are honorable and just, but, when we have done with politics,—as men and as Christians, we should not so widely differ. Socially and morally, the mind makes the man, and we should be willing to judge them accordingly and let our social and moral standing be that of friends and brothers. What we fear is that many men South, who have been unfortunate in this war, do not want to see any of the "Yankees" settle among them—and we feel your Courts heretofore have been no protection to our views.

What Northern men wish to do is to emigrate South and carry all their ideas as to self principle with them. We ask no one to bend to our views unless he or she may be convinced that they are right. In going South we wish to take with us our free school system, our Sabbath schools, our benevolent institutions, our Christian Churches,—aye we wish to carry all that we have which will elevate the mind and secure the more general development of the social, moral and intellectual culture of our well being.

For one,—and when I speak for myself, I think I speak for the whole, or at least a large share, of the earnest men of the North: for one, should I ever emigrate South, my highest aim would be to do good to those around me needing my sympathy and attention—and when I speak so, do not understand me to mean the negro alone, as many would attribute such a remark coming from a Northern man. I should endeavor to elevate and encourage the needy of all classes and conditions of men around about me.—That I should endeavor to make money and secure a good living, I do not attempt to deny. This is my privilege, and, more, it is my duty, and I should surely attempt to attain this object. But, beyond this, I should have another object, and that to be respected and felt as of use in the community as a citizen, and unless I could be secured and treated so, I could not long remain.

Such, in general, are the feelings of many of our people who are willing to go South, not as adventurers only, but with a view to make it their future home, could they be assured and feel confident of being received as friends and treated in society as their standing and worth would justify them in being received.

The war has engendered many bitter feelings in Northern, as well as Southern, breasts. But cannot we now afford to lay those feelings aside? or are the hearts of men so rebellious against our best judgment and interest that we cannot consider the past and let it go—burying forever those animosities and rising proudly above them?

For one, I do not believe that we, as a nation, are such bad people after all. Only let us understand each other, and I think apparent conflicting interests can be harmonized, and the people of the South will be ready to strike hands again with the North and we shall live on a happy and united people. Let us uphold Congress, which alone is the voice of the people, and denounce the views and principles of Stevens, be true to ourselves, hence true to all others, and all will again go on well.

I, for one, should desire to go South and make it my home, and would exchange my residence to-day, could I feel that I was welcome there and that my interests would be secure. I would be pleased to correspond with parties from the South with a view to this end, that I may be able to establish myself in some profitable commercial or manufacturing business in some enterprising village or city, or, if more favorable, in the agricultural pursuits in a healthy and intelligent neighborhood. I should not want to locate where I would not be respected and treated as a man, but where I could be received cordially and be able to identify myself with the best interests of the community in which I lived.

I am, sirs,
Yours very truly,
DANIEL W. CROSBY.

IN THE CITY.—Mr. W. Swinton, the ablest and most impartial historian who has written of the late war, is now in the city, staying at the Spotswood Hotel. He proposes a somewhat extended tour Southward for purposes of observation. Mr. Swinton is a gentleman of intellect, scholarship and liberal sentiments, and is entitled to the courtesies that our people are accustomed to extend to all who deserve them.

At the Exchange Hotel are registered the names of "Gerritt Smith and wife, and Green Smith and wife." It is understood that the visit of Mr. Gerritt Smith to the city is to enable him to unite in the bail bond of Mr. Davis. Like Mr. Greeley, he has long insisted that Mr. Davis should be tried or released from prison; and like Mr. Greeley, also, he favors a general amnesty. Charity covereth, &c.—Richmond Whig, 15th.

THE MILITARY IN THIS CITY.—We cannot too highly commend the deportment of the officers and soldiers of the United States Army in this city. Deporting themselves as officers and soldiers should, they are ever courteous to our citizens, while, at the same time, they discharge firmly and faithfully the duties imposed on them. Such conduct ever wins the respect of all who have a regard for discipline and good order.—Richmond Whig, 15th.—

The feeling which prevailed among all our citizens yesterday was exceedingly pleasurable, and congratulations on the improved prospect of returning amity, were the order of the day.—Richmond Enquirer, 15th.

The crops in Florida, so far as we can learn, were never more promising. Within a day or two, we have visited several plantations. The corn is looking well generally. With suitable seasons and work at the right time, there will be plenty made for the demand. Of cotton there is a good stand. Many planters have finished "chopping out." The freedmen are working better than they did last year, and if they continue in well doing, there is every reason to believe that a good crop will be made.—Tallahasse Floridian.

MONEY.—Holden, of the North Carolina Standard, is calling lustily to the North for "money to effect organization and to support the colored speakers while canvassing the State." Corporations are said to be soulless; but party organizations are heartless. In view of the present condition of the country, and especially of the South, to call for money to support reckless agitation, instead of calling for it to feed the starving, evinces a lack of feeling which nobody but a party politician could exhibit.—Galveston (Texas) News.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS, VA.
THESE MINERAL WATERS
Have an established reputation for very high curative virtue in all the following classes of disease, and as being an absolute SPECIFIC in several of them, viz:
SCROFULA, and all the forms of Glandular swellings and Cutaneous Eruptive Disease, Erysipelas, Tetter, Eczema, &c., Chronic Diarrhœa, and Dysentery, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Chronic Thrush, Affections of the Kidneys and Bladder, Dropsy and Piles. In all anæmic conditions of the System and broken-down states of the Constitution, Loss of Appetite and General Nervous Prostration, their powers and virtue as a Restorative may be safely pronounced to be WITHOUT A KNOWN RIVAL
Amongst the Mineral Waters of the World.
They are especially indicated in the whole class of ailments peculiar to the Female Constitution.
The Springs Pamphlet, with analysis of Professor Hayes, of Boston, and letters of Dr. Cartwright, of New Orleans; Professor Cabell, of the University of Virginia; Drs. Moorman and Graham, of Virginia; Drs. T. G. Thomas and Thos. Addis Emmett, of New York, and of other distinguished men of the clergy and other professions, abundantly attest what is here said of the virtues of this water.
Can be had on applications to the Agents.
THE ALUM MASS,
OR SALTS OF THE WATER.
These Salts are now put in $2 and $6 vials, sealed and stamped with Springs' seal to prevent all mistake, and sent at those prices, postage paid, to any office in the United States, and, at the price, is much the cheapest form of obtaining the water.

THE SENTINEL.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1867.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

To Advertisers.—The public will find the Sentinel one of the best mediums of advertising in the State. Its circulation covers a larger area, perhaps, than any other paper.

New Advertisements.—Mitchell, Allen & Co.: No. 22, Pollok Street, Newbern.

Mrs. Dudley, residing near the Cooke Hotel, will supply those desiring it, with fresh, clean, sweet milk. We know it to be such.

Willard Bros., of Wilmington, announce another large importation of various grades of Molasses.

Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co. present something new and attractive to the public again.

Family Roe Herrings: Douglass Bell, Market Square.

Insane Asylum.—We learn that all the apartments in this institution are at present full. No additional patients can be received until vacancies occur. The fact of vacancy can be ascertained by written application to Dr. E. C. Fisher, the Superintendent.

As this is a matter of public interest, will the Press of the State please copy this notice?

Literary.—The firm of Branson & Farrar, having sold their old stock to the Methodist Book Store, (N. C. Pub. Company,) are now offering, under the style of Branson, Farrar & Co., a select new stock of School Books, Stationery, Blank Books, Law Books, Sabbath School Publications, Sheet Music, Fancy Articles, &c., &c., including all the articles usually kept by the Trade. The publication of the North Carolina Business Directory will be continued as a specialty. The business of the firm will be conducted as for the past five years, strictly on its own merits. To their old customers, who have stood faithfully by them during all the hard times of the last few years, they desire to make grateful acknowledgments, and solicit continued favors. They are now located at Fentress' corner, next door to Tucker's new Hall, where they will be pleased to see all their old friends and customers.

The Arrest of Bryant.—It seems that Bryant, who killed Wiley Sauls in this city, last winter, was arrested at Lynchburg. The News gives the following particulars:

"Sunday night, officer Kidd, by order of the Chief of Police, proceeded to a house near the old Methodist grave yard, and arrested a man by the name of Quincey Bryant, charged with highway robbery and murder in Raleigh, N. C., committed in January last.

Bryant has been here several months, living in the house in which he was captured, but engaged in no business, having plenty of money. He was traced to this city by detectives and his capture effected as above stated. When the officer visited the house in which he was known to be, he heard them coming and made an attempt to escape through the window. Finding this impossible, the murderer sought a place of concealment, and a strict search of the premises discovered him in an upper room of the house, concealed under a bed. He made no effort at resistance, but evinced much agitation when taken into custody."

A Manly Appeal.—We have received the following letter, which we take the liberty of giving to the public, over the proper name of the writer. We do not know the unfortunate, disabled young man, personally; but he writes likes a man of spirit, intelligence and sensibility. We publish the letter in the hope that it may lead, in some way, to his benefit. We have probably hundreds of just such cases in North Carolina, and thousands of them in the South; and the condition of all such appeals powerfully to our humanity. The best charity that we can offer them is suitable employment and the means of making a livelihood:

Nash County, N. C., May 13.

Dear Sir:—I hope I will not be considered troublesome to you at this time, when pecuniary matters are at so low an ebb. My distress really ought to be an apology for my intrusion on your time. If you had undergone as much hardship and experienced as much pain, suffering and unavoidable inconveniences as I have, you would excuse my forwardness.

I am an ex-Confederate soldier, served in the 4th N. C. State Troops from May, 1861, to the 3rd of May, 1863. Then it was that I received a severe wound in my left hand and my right arm was torn nearly off by a shell from the enemy's guns; it was amputated a few days afterward. Now, sir, I am disabled from any labor whatever. No parents, no relations, able to give me any start in the world. No property, no nothing. I now drag out a miserable life, of no use to myself or the community in my present circumstances, or rather situation. Now if I had a chance, I could make myself useful to myself and others. This idleness, this inactivity, this ennui, makes me miserable. I want to be useful. I want to work! But what can I do now? If I could go to school a few months, I could then work nicely. I could then make a show in the world by teaching. If I had the proper means, I could do so, or if I had any advantages of that kind, I could repay by instalments.

I am a young unmarried man, 25 years of age. The world is before me. All I want is a chance! Now, sir, you have my story in full. If you can give me any advice how to earn a livelihood by my left hand, crippled and disfigured as it is, I shall be under lasting obligation. If you can be of any service consistently in any way, you are at liberty to use my name, privately or publicly, as the case may require. My address is Nashville, N. C. Yours Respectfully,

J. J. BENNETT.

[From the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.]

EDITORIAL NOTES ON THE SOUTH.

If an election of any kind were to be held in the South within the next month, there is no reasonable doubt that three-fourths of the negro vote would be cast with the Southern white vote. There is perfect accord between the larger portion of the freedmen and the white population. This is but natural. The negroes were as ardent enemies of the North as their masters during the war. They had no theories to sustain, and no special care as to what questions were involved in the contest. They sympathized with the people who surrounded them; and if the oath of allegiance were distinctly understood by the freedmen when it is administered to them, nine tenths of them would be unable to say that they had not lent willing aid and comfort to the rebellion. Having stood firmly by their masters in the trials of the war, they are still likely to stand by them in all public questions. It seems to be from a knowledge and appreciation of these facts that the men who are seeking to use the negro vote for partisan purposes find it necessary to delude the poor fellows with promises of a division of the land among them. The serious question for the freedmen now ought to be how to establish a regular and permanent system of paid labor, and how to fix the rate of payment so as to approximate as nearly as may be to the old rate—namely, a support for the laborer and his family, in sickness and health, childhood and old age.—But the interference of politicians is operating to prevent the determination of those questions and postpone the day of calm settling down.

It is impossible to regard the speech-making missions of Northern politicians to the Southern negroes as anything but injurious to them. It is, in fact, adding the final blow to their ruin as a people. Unless they settle down to work, and take the position of laborers whose labor is necessary, and must be cherished and cared for, they will rapidly perish. The suffrage is in danger of proving the destruction of the race. It would ordinarily take a generation to learn the requirements of the new order of things. Where interests of employers are so deeply involved in the education of the employed, the process of accommodation to the new system might be much more rapid. But the temptations to idleness which political speakers are offering them are too strong to be resisted by their feeble intellects, and they are easily led to ruin. They would go much faster if the promises were fulfilled. If the lands were divided among them, and they were made to depend on their own labor for the product of their own farms, the race would melt away in two or three generations.

The Southern negro is very much like a hothouse plant. He needs constant care and advice. Exposure is dangerous. It is astonishing to observe how many of them seem to be ill, how few are free from coughs and indications of disease. They know nothing about taking care of themselves.—They require advice, watching and constant help. These are the general truths, while the exceptions serve by contrast to make the common rule more visible.

The future, therefore, looks doubtful to the Southern people. There is reason to fear that the negro race will disappear. Already it is plain that it will not be able to supply the demand for labor which is sure to be made within a few years. The indications are that they will diminish from year to year, while the demand will increase in more rapid rate. If these questions were left to the management of Southern men they would be considered with great care, and the utmost attention would be paid to the comfort and well being of the freedmen. The best friends they have in the world are Southern employers, and their worst enemies those who, however honestly, are seeking to divert their attention from the primary question of bread, and clothing, and shelter, to the work of governing a great nation. Unfit at present to feed themselves, they ought to be spared the miserable delusion of thinking they are fit to make laws for the world or the greatest nation in it.—The direction of their minds toward such subjects results in their absolute destruction, physical as well as moral.

There are many reasons for believing that the tendency of things in the South is toward the breaking up of the old system of large plantations employing many hands. These will continue in some sections because no other system can be made to work successfully. But it will not be strange if the general rule shall hereafter be more like that at the North, where the farmer cultivates a small farm, requiring but few hands. Here comes in, however, the question of emigration—whether it can be turned to the South, and how. The world's history has shown that emigration does not tend to warm climates. But here are inducements such as were never before offered. A land once teeming with abundance, rich soil which rewards labor ten-fold, the prospects of crops which are more valuable than mines of gold, the certainty that the soil will yield support to the laborer and his family from the time that the seed grows, these and other reasons may tempt the emigrant.

But the people of the South must do something to induce emigration, and one of the first things necessary is to persuade their railway companies to establish second class through rates of fare at a low tariff.—The present rates are only local, and very high. When we compare the cost of going from New York to St. Louis or Chicago with the cost of going as far southward, we see reasons why the emigrant cannot now be induced to try the latter.

There are fine openings for the organization of emigrant companies in the South.—Large tracts of improved land can be bought at a low figure, and these lands sold to emigrants in alternate sections would at once become more valuable than in the most prosperous days of old.

A Sensible Negro.—About the most sensible speech we have met with lately, either from a white or black source, is that made by a freedman in Tennessee to his colored brethren, who had assembled in convention to consider the condition of the country. He said:

"Niggers, I know but little about conventions, and you know less; now, you had better go home, make a good crop, learn some sense, and then hold conventions."

There are three ex-Confederate naval officers editing newspapers in the South: Lieut. Kerr, of the Weldon State; Lieutenant J. R. Eggleston, of the Mobile, (Ala.) Tribune; and Admiral Raphael Semmes, of the Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal; all distinguished officers of the old navy, and most accomplished gentlemen.

Logan, Democrat, has been elected Mayor by seventy-eight majority.

ATTORNEY GENERAL STANBERRY'S OPINION.

Washington, May 16.

It is expected that the Attorney General's opinion on the reconstruction act will be ready for promulgation this week. All the points have been decided and approved by the President and Cabinet.

The utmost pains have been taken to render clear the meaning of the various clauses of the acts. The preparation of the document has involved an examination of the laws of the Southern States, in order to understand what classes are affected, and to furnish a guide by which the law may be carried into effect with the least possible embarrassment.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, May 16.

Elliott C. Cowdin, a silk merchant of New York, has been appointed commissioner to the Paris Exposition.

Custom House receipts from the 1st. to 11th. of May were $5,117,000.

In the Supreme Court in the case of the State of Texas vs. White and others, to prevent the sale of certain bonds, an injunction was granted, with leave to the defendants to move to dissolve the injunction at the next term.

The Mississippi amended bill was dismissed for want of jurisdiction. The Court was equally divided on the question of jurisdiction. This action closes the injunction proceedings now before the Court.

After promulgating certain rules, forms and proceeding in bankruptcy, the Court adjourned to December.

The French Government has bought Dunderburg for three millions.

Revenue Receipts to-day $295,000.

A circular from Gen. Howard states that reports show an increase of intemperance among the negroes.

Jos. H. Schureman, a negro messenger in the Comptroller's office has been arrested, charged with forgery and the stealing of $12,000 from the first National Bank of Jersey City, and a lot of stationery from the Comptroller's office.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, May 16.

Hon. Jefferson Davis stopped at the New York Hotel. Judge Russell, Ben. Wood and others called. He avoids attracting public attention, and declines to communicate with reporters.

Abraham McFarland, for over twenty years connected with the Commercial Advertiser, is dead.

ELECTION FOR BISHOP.

Augusta, Ga., May 16.

The Florida Episcopal Convention has chosen Dr. Freeman Young, of Trinity Church, New York, as Bishop of that State, to succeed the late Bishop Rutledge.

MORE ROWS.

New Orleans, May 16.

There was considerable disturbance among the negroes on the levee to-day, amounting almost to a riot. Two policemen were badly injured in endeavoring to prevent the negroes from a mob. The military was ordered out to aid the police. The following is a paragraph from an order issued by Gen. Mower to-day:

"The United States government, if necessary will protect you through the military, but you will not be protected in wrong-doing."

At a meeting in Galveston yesterday, a negro speaker was drawing offensive comparisons between the races, and was interrupted by a United States soldier, when indiscriminate shooting commenced. A majority of the negroes appeared to be armed.

Arrival of Mr. Jefferson Davis at Norfolk—General Joe Davis, Nephew, and Others.—The steamer Niagara, hurried along by her dashing commander, Sylvester Blackeman, made a rapid trip from Rocketts to Smith's wharfs, Norfolk, arriving last evening.

On board were Mr. Jefferson Davis and his nephew, General Joe Davis, en route for Canada, to visit members of their family in the British possessions.

The object of Mr. Davis's visit is to see his children, now under tuition in Canada.

The distinguished party made a brief visit to the city, and quietly returned to the Niagara, which left at 10 P. M. for New York.

Many friends of Mr. Davis, and also many gentleman from the "Melita," called on him at a few minutes before his departure for the North, and expressed themselves highly honored by a shake of the hand with Jefferson Davis.

To-night Mr. Davis will be in New York.—Norfolk Journal, 15th.

Miss White, of Petersburg, an account of whose abstinence from food for twenty-one days, has been heretofore mentioned, died on Saturday.

We understand that General Lee will be in Staunton this week in attendance at the Episcopal Convention which assembles to-morrow.—Spectator.

The Republican, the Radical organ at Norfolk, has been suspended—cause, want of money to pay for the establishment. The sheriff has charge of the property.

JUDGE KELLEY'S INCENDIARY TOUR.

DISTURBANCE IN MOBILE—THREE MEN KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED.

Mobile, May 14.—A large number of negroes met to-night at the corner of Government and Royal streets to hear a speech from Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania. A number of whites were also present. Everything was remarkably quiet until Mr. Kelley began speaking. He began by saying that he had come to discuss the rights of the negro, the right they were entitled to, and bid defiance to all interruptions and to the world. He said the 15th regiment at his back, and if they proved inadequate the whole United States army would back him.

Judge Kelley continued in this strain for some minutes, using strong language, and expressing incendiary sentiments which were calculated to lead to riotous demonstrations. He was here interrupted by a white man on the outskirts of the crowd, whom the police promptly arrested. At this point the first of a series of shots were fired. It is impossible to say who by. Instantly shots followed from the negroes, who were all well armed. The firing then became general. Immediately after the firing was heard an alarm was rung, and the bell's continued ringing during the progress of the riot, which lasted about an hour.

A large majority of the shots were fired by negroes, as but few of the whites present were armed, having attended the meeting to listen quietly to Mr. Kelley, and without the remotest intention of provoking a riot. The police succeeded in quelling the riot before the arrival of the companies of the 15th. regiment, who were ordered out by Col. Shepherd and appeared on the ground as soon as possible, but not until the meeting had been dispersed. They now guard the streets, and there is little or no excitement at midnight.

It is impossible to state positively the number killed and wounded. Three men were killed, one white and two negroes. A number were wounded, among them one policeman.

Judge Kelley is at the Battle House. He leaves to-morrow for Montgomery.

KNOW THY DESTINY.

Madame E. F. Thornton, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. FIRST CLASS PROPERTY FOR RENT.

THAT LARGE, COMMODIOUS, AND WELL known Hotel,

"THE METROPOLITAN"

situated in the center of the business portion of Greensboro, N. C., is offered for rent or lease.

Its advantages are many; the outhouses and improvements are in fine condition, and of modern construction. Greensboro is a point at which a well conducted Hotel cannot fail to pay an active manager very handsomely; being at the terminus of the Richmond, Danville and Piedmont Rail Road, about the middle of the N. C. Central Rail Road, in the very centre of the Mining District of N. C.; at a point always remarkable for its flourishing schools and female colleges, and well known as a summer resort, on account of its healthy atmosphere.

The proprietors would prefer renting to some party, who have had experience in conducting a first-class hotel, and to such the terms would be most liberal; at any rate they desire an active and energetic man. The Metropolitan Property being the only Hotel in the central part of town, makes it most desirable, and a competent manager would enjoy a monopoly.

FERTILIZERS

FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 225 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 Parts Consist of

Moisture	5.95
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humus	36.50
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.90

The animal matter absorbed 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., state Assayer.

THE SENTINEL.

FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1867.

OUR BABY.

BY MRS. GATE.

Did you ever see our baby
Little Tot;
With his eyes so sparkling bright
And his skin so lily white,
Lips and cheeks of rosy light—
Tell you what,
He is just the sweetest baby
In the lot.

Ah! he is our only darling,
And to me
All his little ways are witty;
And when he sings his little ditty,
Every word is just as pretty
As can be—
Not another in the city
Sweet as he.

You dont think so—never saw him,
Wish you could
See him with his play things clattering,
Hear his little tongue a chattering;
Little dancing feet come pattering
Think you would
Love him just as well as I do,
If you could!

Every Grandma's only darling,
I suppose,
Is as sweet and bright a blossom,
Is a treasure to her bosom,
Is as charming and endearing,
As my rose,
Heavenly Father, spare him to us,
Till life's close.

AGRICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC.

REMEDY FOR MOLES.—Cut apples or potatoes in pieces about the size of a pea and roll them in strychnine or arsenic. Then make several small holes where the moles run, and drop one or more of the pieces in each hole. In a short time the moles will disappear. Another exchange says that a few seeds of the castor bean, scattered about their haunts, will destroy ground moles.

SLOBBERING IN HORSES.—A correspondent of the Boston Cultivator says that this is a disease in horses. Saltpetre, a table spoonful for a dose, he has found to cure the worst case he ever had, and has not found it necessary ever to give a fourth dose. He gives a tablespoonful in the morning, and in three days, if the horse is not free from it, he repeats the dose.

STARCH FROM POTATOES.—A starch factory in Vermont last year used 28,000 bushels of potatoes, for which 30 cents per bushel were paid. A coarse variety called "California," which yields 200 or 400 bushels per acre, were used. Thus an income of $100 per acre were obtained from land not worth $20 per acre.

CURCULIO.—The Williamsport (Pa.) Bulletin has the following relative to a cure for the curculio in plums:

"Mr. Evenden, the well-known gardener of this city, says the following has been tested and found to be a sure preventive of the attack of the circulio on plum trees. It is simple and easily tried: "Take a quantity of corn cobs, wind a wire around them, terminating in a hook at the end of the cobs; then dip them into gas tar until they are well saturated. Hang a dozen or more on a tree, and no curculio will disturb the tree. Try it."

DRINK FOR MILCH COWS—Cows that give milk in winter, says the Maine Farmer, will add much to profit by giving them a bucketful of warm water twice a day, with a little meal, or even the slops of the family in it. Every one has noticed how an extremely cold day will affect their milk, or whenever they become wet in summer. A little salt, with meal floating on the surface of such a drink, will soon teach any cow how to drink it.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD BUTTER.—A lady, experienced in making butter, says: "Before I go to milk I put a kettle, say one-third full of water, and large enough to let the milk pail into it, on the stove, where it will get boiling hot by the time I come in with the milk. I then strain the milk into another vessel, and wash the pail, (which should always be of tin) then pour the milk back into the pail, and set it into the kettle of boiling water till the milk becomes scalding hot, taking care not to let it boil; then pour it into pans, and set it away in the cellar for the cream to rise in the usual way. Cream produced in this way will seldom require more than twenty minutes to churn, while by the common practice the dairy maid may often churn for hours, and then perhaps have to throw it away, as I did before I became acquainted with the Russian plan, the essential features of which I have adopted in my present mode, as given above. The method is applicable to all seasons—summer as well as winter.

A NEW WAY TO KEEP EGGS.—The week before going to sea on a four months' voyage I gathered in sixty dozen eggs for cabin sea-stores, taking especial pains to prove every egg of the lot a good one; besides, I got them from my farmer friends, and knew they were all fresh laid. Then I fixed them for keeping by taking five or six dozen at a time in a basket, and dipping them about five seconds in the cook's "copper" of boiling water. After scalding, I passed the eggs through a bath made by dissolving about five pounds of the cheapest brown sugar in a gallon of water, and laid them out on the galley floor to dry. There I had my sixty dozen eggs sugar-coated. I packed them in charcoal dust instead of salt. I tried salt ten years, and I do not believe it preserves eggs a mite. The steward had strict orders to bring aft and report every bad egg he should find. During the whole voyage he brought three, not absolutely spoiled, but a little old like. All the others, or what was left of them, were as fresh when we came in as they were when I packed them away.—Correspondent of Country Gentleman.

An old Confederate veteran is responsible for the following: He says, while campaigning in Virginia in 1862, being something of a buttermilk ranger, he strayed off ahead of the column, and stopped at a cabin to get some refreshments. While there, the column came up, and while filing past, the old dog "Beve" dashed out to the fence barking furiously. A litte tow-headed, shirt-tail urchin in the house drawled out, "Mammy, call Beve; don't let him bite the army!"

Not many days ago a young lady from the country went into the store of a merchant and asked if he wished to purchase a couple of chickens, at the same time throwing a pair of live ones on the counter.—"Why, yes," he replied, "but will they lay there?"—meaning would they remain on the counter a few moments. "Lay there!" indignantly retorted the rustic beauty; "No, sir! they won't lay nowhere's; them's roosters!"

ARITHMETICAL CALCULATIONS.—Duplex, of the Natchitoches Times, overheard the conversation of two sable individuals on Christmas day, during which one asked the other what he made during the last year? "Nuffin, I worked for the seventh and the boss only made one-fifth; darefore I got nuffin."

MIXED.—An advertisement inviting the public to purchase oysters at such a place, concludes in the following manner: "Here you can have oysters furnished by polite servants stewed or fried, and also chickens served by the same gentlemen stuffed with bivalves."

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United states of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishments shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel states, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United states, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United states against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God." which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God." which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 7. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each, representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 8. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held in such district as provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 9. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 10. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
